Andy Bumpus
Minister of Music

Andy began a new chapter of worship ministry at FBC Sikeston in the spring of 2012 after serving churches in Alabama and Mississippi over the past twenty years. He and Betsy hail from Tennessee and have two adult children, Michael (Birmingham, AL) and Ami (Jackson, MS). Andy earned degrees in church music from Belmont University and Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, but has been most shaped for ministry through 30+ years of ministry experience. God's call on Andy's life is to help the local church discover its own unique worship language (style) and identity in Christ through life-transformational moments of encounter with the Living God.
